

Om Shanti

When there's Purity, there is a divine smile, right? That smile which has assurance, is a smile that has feelings of victory, a smile that has faith. One thing I always like is the smile of Hanuman. Have you seen Ramayan? Even Rama is crying but he is smiling. Why is he smiling? Because he knew that if you are with God, there's always victory. Baba said that people have pain and sorrow, they are restless, they don't feel belonging. As soon as you have a divine smile, not in a lokik way, but very naturally, when you have this divine smile, then the other person's sorrow and pain is reduced or removed.

Today is the day of Rakhi and also today is our last day of this series of Personality of Purity. From tomorrow, for eight days, we will celebrate Dadi Prakashmani, the specialities she had, and what we should do with ourselves. I think it's a very good conclusion that the Personality of Purity is about having a divine smile, and you all are smiling, right? I don't really need to say too much, but I have a story, it's a very short one. There was a boy, a young boy. Whenever there was thunder, a lot of thunder like today, this boy would run out and his mother would say, "Do not go out, it's raining and scary. Why do you keep going out?" Whenever there was lightning, the boy would look up and smile. He said, "God is taking my photograph!" So, he didn't have fear but he thought the lightning was like a camera, you know in the camera they have a flash, and that means a photo is taken. So, he would go and smile, every time there is lightning, he will go and smile. I also feel, since childhood, but even in the path of bhakti, that we go in front of God smiling. He will take care of everything but if you go like, "Oh, I have problems, I have to ask him something, there is this difficulty." No. Contentment, cheerfulness, I belong to you. I just said, "Baba you are my parents, I belong to you." So what do parents do? Provide everything! You don't really have to ask, right? They know what you need. So, my relationship with Baba is with my parents, Baba, you always take care of us, you are my parents. So, I never go with anything, I just smile and go in front of Baba. All of us take this Rakhi gift from Baba of an ever divine smile. Are you happy with that gift? You will keep it, right? Always smile! Okay!

Om Shanti
