

Om Shanti!

Om Shanti to Baba's living ignited lamps! So, Baba wants us to be easy. Baba said that sanskars shouldn't be tight, that means tension, heaviness. Not only the nature is easy, but the task will also become easy. We want easy tasks, right? Otherwise we make it complicated. Then, those who have to cooperate with us will also find it difficult. So, we take this as a blessing from Baba that I will remain light, not tight, and always remain cheerful. It is important to talk about the 'Image of Completion'. In completion, there are a few steps. One is receiving from Baba, because complete means full. So, if I have to be full, the first step is that I have to receive love from Baba. The second step is to be loving, because whatever I receive, if I share with others, then it becomes my stage. I feel a lot of love from Baba, but my mind and intellect, or my image, is not of love. It has to be loving. When it is loving then automatically there is joy, there is happiness. When I am full of love, I'm very happy, I'm very joyful. At present, the way the circumstances are, there is so much heaviness, negativity, and insecurity. It is important for Baba's children to be very light and joyful so that this creates hope, courage, and enthusiasm in people's lives. Otherwise, it is very easy to be disappointed, to be depressed, lacking self-trust, and self-respect.

True service from the heart is really to be loving to everyone, not looking at others, what they do, what they don't do, thinking that they should be doing this or that. Everyone has their own limited or unlimited capacities and powers. So, if something is lacking in someone, how can I share a virtue so that they feel empowered, experience inspiration and motivation to transform, and to do good efforts. In completion, I feel one of the first virtues is love, and then the second virtue is deep inside being very peaceful. Things happen, because this is Drama, scenes keep changing, it cannot be the same, and it cannot be what I want. Whatever happens, we see good in that, benefit in that, and say, "Wah, Drama is very beneficial, it keeps my stage unshakable and steady." So, this inner peace is very important. It could be calmness or peace that comes from love, because you love yourself, right? So, why would you disturb yourself? If I have love for myself, I won't get upset, I won't get disturbed. Then, when I am with others, I'm very loving, cheerful, and smiling. Anything you have to say, or while giving drishti, has to be with love and peace. Then automatically a joyful, happy, super sensuous joy or bliss emerges. Your cheerful smile is not external, it's coming from inner joy, being with Baba, and a golden chance to serve.

Baba says that now is the time to serve with every thought and at every second. I thought that yes, we can do that, because service is not something that you have to do, service should be happening all the time, in a very natural way. If you are cheerful and smiling, then service is happening. If you are peaceful, your every thought, the vibrations that are created are service. Automatically, my heart is full of good wishes and pure feelings. Not only that, but you are able to see that everyone is on a spiritual journey, and they are trying their best. So, I have to share in such a way that the soul has courage, becomes tireless, and you continue together on this spiritual journey. Otherwise, very subtly, there may be settling of karma happening or some struggles are there to defeat Maya. How can my company, my presence, help the soul to move forward on the spiritual journey? Once Brahma Baba said, "Even if I become complete, I will have to wait for all of you, because we all have to go together." So, it is the same now, we all have to go together. We help each other to become ready, to be ever ready, and move forward. Baba even said that all will not study, but all will go together. So, if we all have to be together, let's be together here. These pure feelings between co-travelers, Baba recently said in Murli that it is sympathy that you have for each other. It is a very easy journey, a long journey, but it has its own difficulties, whether it is while settling, or staying connected with Baba. If my remembrance of Baba can help someone to stay in remembrance, it is service.

So, with completion, you are pure also. Purity is really what? It is from purity that you are able to feel love from Baba. If you are not pure, you won't feel love, you will ask for love. Stay peaceful, joyful and as Baba had been saying, continue to churn knowledge. Just imagine, every thought has to be changed, every thought has to be elevated. Collectively together now, Diwali is coming with a lot of joy. Whatever part of the journey is left before we reach this destination, the stage of perfection and completion, be joyfully together, holding each other with lots of love. So, for almost 30 days we practiced staying in the awareness of the siddhi for each day, and definitely some percentage was accomplished. There have been a lot of inner deep realizations, transformations, and the quality of service that I am offering is not only through words, but it's through my attitude and drishti. So, we had a good journey for the whole month. We will stay together and have something more, but just remind yourself that I have to make it to the destination. We have to contribute to the Yagya through our stage of completion, and definitely all our co-travelers are with us. We all will stay together, and make it to our destination of completion.

Om Shanti
