It was not just a lecture but mix of presentation, exercise and meditation which made it very interesting. She beautifully explained why in current world of chaos & complexity, engaging hearts and minds of people is very important for leaders. Current engagement in corporates is at IQ & EQ level mainly and why this need to be extended at SQ level. It is very important to discover core to increase productivity of the people. All people heartily participated in the exercise of story-telling and reflection process and understood relevance for leadership. The program ended with meditation in very creative way. People were touched by blessing cards they received with powerful vibrations from Sr. La. On the whole it was an excellent program appreciated by the team including CEO. (Br.Kailash)

On 20-21 October'18 – The gathering of 60 B.K. students from different centres was arranged at Sinthu centre on the topic "Living as Arts".

An absolutely empowering refreshing and insightful day spent with the Bk Family learning & experiencing step by step of what is Brahmins aim objective at Sangam, that is becoming 16 celestial degrees complete. No words are enough to thank sister Judy, Sister La, Sister Da and entire Nonthaburi team for such a splendid organisation of family time together learning churning and empowering.

On the first day, the Workshop started with Sister Judy beautifully relating to the Moon, A full Moon when it is 16 celestial degrees complete has a full golden radiance and a day before it is 14 celestial degrees with silver radiance... Such is Satyug and Tretayug. The 16 celestial degrees is relative to astrological study and for Brahmins who will be Dieties it is spiritual Study of becoming 16 celestial degrees complete meaning Solah Kala Sampurna – full of the 16 arts of Living as deities.

Final session, on the second day, we enjoyed the very important kala "Art of transformation"

The workshop started powerfully with feeling silence at the sound Gong. Sister Judy asked each soul to take an object and then imagine it to be something totally different. What did we derive from this?

A piece of music with only choir voices singing but no music helped us drive some very subtle and powerful learnings to apply in spiritual journey to master the art of Harmonizing – Rhythm, Accuracy, Respect each one's specialty, small groups mixing and changing, one note blended as one voice, silence between notes, score or the notes given to each one vary... in choir – 20% time is spent in practicing together while 80% time each one gives to the self to “HOLD TO THEIR NOTE” so when they are together and others are singing their notes we have mastered holding on to ours despite all mixing sounds... Through this we must realize our own lesson – Vibes of the soul are like musical notes and Soul consciousness is like holding our note – sister La beautifully read out “To accept defeat of ego is to create harmony”. We learn from this that the “value of our uniqueness is only obvious in togetherness – no matter how unique we are it's when we are together that it becomes obvious...”

We then ended our workshop with “Paanch swaroop” the five swaroop of each soul as Baba has explained in Murli's. A beautiful practice of it together along with a powerful blessing card and tool. What an empowering, well-articulated, methodically conducted, and balanced workshop full of silence time, physical movement, acting, drama, churning, team-work, individual introspection, alongside managing brahma bhojan, audio visual setup, music and most importantly each soul taking back a powerful realization for their self-progress and for ensuring working in harmony with others.

Thank you Baba, sister La and sister Da and the entire Nonthaburi family for this empowering family time together and sister Judy for such a well-articulated conducted time together with such ease. We look forward to more. (Sr. Neelu)
