BECOMING A SOURCE OF STABILITY

We are living in a time of extremes, where stress, fear, corruption and violence are often the prevailing currency. In such an atmosphere, to maintain hope, positivity and kindness becomes increasingly challenging, even elusive. There is clearly a need for greater inner stability and resilience.

YOGA gives us the power to bring stability and calm to our minds, along with the capacity to see, feel and experience our highest potential – that wealth of qualities and spiritual powers that are our essential selves.

The spiritual union between a human soul and Supreme Soul God, YOGA begins with the awareness of our identity as spiritual beings. It is an empowering connection that enables us to go beyond reactivity and respond with love and wisdom to the challenges we face.

Spiritual Response to Critical Times brings together Raja Yogis from all walks of life and every part of the world, to share their wisdom, guide you through powerful meditation experiences, and provide methods to continue these practices in your daily lives.

Increase your inner resilience and resources, by connecting to One.
