

Do you remember Shiv Baba?

Madhuban, August 2019

Letter filled with Sweet Remembrances & Hearty Congratulations for the Pure Festival of Raksha Bandhan

To the dearly beloved children of the supremely pure, supremely loved, Mother and Father in Avyakt form, who are always seated on the stage of Self-Respect, and have all rights of Self-Sovereignty, who fly with the wings of zeal and enthusiasm, and make the atmosphere peaceful and elevated with the vibrations of their powerful minds, to such unlimited server-Instrument Teachers, and our sisters and brothers who are the decoration of the Brahmin clan of Bharat and abroad,

Please accept hearty congratulations for the pure festivals of Raksha Bandhan and Janamashtami, along with love-filled remembrances.

In order to give practical form to all of Beloved BapDada's inspirations, all of you, along with being engaged in special tapasya and service, are glorifying BapDada's name in every corner of the world through your elevated mind, speech and actions. This auspicious festival of Rakhi is a special festival which enables us to share a unique message with a countless number of souls and bring them into close contact. Along with that Baba's children also bind themselves in this thread of love, and especially commit to some or the other aspect of self-transformation. Baba says, Children, it is through your transformation that revelation will take place, just as Baba was revealed in front of us; all of us have seen Him in the practical form with these eyes, and understood Him. So now, world transformation is dependent on us. When we become perfect and complete, then transformation of the world will happen. This is why Baba says, Children, do not waste your time making mistakes. The time of the Confluence Age is very, very valuable; you have to use every single breath and thought in a worthwhile way. Do not get confused or entangled anywhere. According to drama, only that which is good will happen. Baba is with us, so 'Don't Think!' These sweet words of Baba do sound in your ears, don't they? Baba wishes to see our stage of being 'ignorant of all desires'.

Let all of us make these elevated and pure promises at Raksha Bandhan this time: 1. I have to remain in my elevated self-respect, and give respect to all. 2. I have to become complete with all spiritual virtues. There shouldn't be the slightest of any other kind of thought or worry. There shouldn't be even the smallest trace of ego or any feeling of insult. 4. I have to now create such a soul-conscious, bodiless stage so that the soul becomes completely pure in mind, speech and actions. 5. Not a single moment should be wasted; every moment should be used in a worthwhile way, and also there should no trace of carelessness and laziness.

So, all of you our sweet sisters and brothers will get this truest Rakhi of determined thoughts tied, won't you? If there is any defect or weakness remaining inside, then realize it and put an end to it with the power of silence and God's help.

Today a very beautiful Rakhi of love is coming to you from Madhuban, your unlimited home. Our sweet instrument Teachers will please remind everyone in Class about the promises we have made to BapDada, and then sweeten their mouths. While getting your Rakhis tied, have the awareness that this pure Rakhi filled with BapDada's love has come personally for me, so get it tied with these pure feelings and make a determined, auspicious promise.

The Bhattis for Self-Introspection for different Brahmin groups continue in Shantivan, and large numbers of brothers, sisters and BK Teachers come in their respective turns to fill themselves up.

Accha, please convey loving remembrances to everyone.

On Spiritual Service,
B.K. Janki
